TEN PAGES

According to press reports woman suffrage in New York and Illinois is being bumped and the chances are that it will be a long time before the women of those states are given the ballot.

The Dispatch thanks the neighboring press for the very kind things said about it on the occasion of its completing its thirty-fifth year. It encourages us in efforts to make a still better county newspaper.

Col. W. J. Bryan will begin his speech-making in Ohio in the interest of the candidacy of Gov. Wilson for the democratic presidential nomination at Ravenna next Monday. Time was when a democratic speaker couldn't attract a corporal's guard in Portage county to listen to him. But it is different now. Col. Bryan will have thousands within the range of his voice when he turns loose his flood of oratory next Monday.

With the coming of pleasant days republican candidates for county offices in Youngstown are beginning to hit the trail that leads to the rural districts, and from now until May 21, the date of the primaries, every republican voter is likely to have an opportunity to meet and greet every official aspirant. But it will not be right, fellows, to promise to support all of them. For several places there are a dozen or more candidates, and only one of the hopefuls can be chosen, except in the case of commissioners and representatives.

It is possible that former Congressman James Kennedy of Youngstown may be a candidate for the republican nomination for congress in this district. He has said that his law practice demanded his entire attention, but friends are urging him to announce himself, believing that he is entitled to vindication for positions he took on measures before the national legislature when he was a member of that body. Should Mr. Kennedy decide to get into the going the plans of some of the other candidates will be not a little interfered with. He has staunch supporters in all parts of the district ready to shed their coats and enter the fight at a word from him.

Friends of former State Senator B. F. Wirt of Youngstown are putting him to the fore as a candidate for the republican nomination for secretary of state. Mr. Wirt is an able man and has a large following, not only in Youngstown city but throughout the county. But he also has enemies in his own political family. When he was first nominated for state senator in that historic Niles convention there was a fight that left scars that time has failed to efface. Attorney D. F. Anderson at that time went down to defeat when victory seemed assured. He and his following can never be placated. And, besides, Anderson's friends are now booming him for the republican nomination for governor, petitions being in circulation in many parts of the state. It is certain that two state nominations cannot go to the same city or county. This makes it sure that should both men mentioned be in the running the fight would be about the hottest: Mahoning has seen in recent years.

Big Blanket Ticket.

At the November election, the size of the ballot to be voted will, it is claimed, be the largest since the introduction of the Australian plan. As a starter every party in existence will be upon the ballot with tickets.

There will be the names of the candidates for president and vice president, 21 electors from the congressional districts and three at large, a governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, auditor and treasurer of state, attorney general, school commissioner, two members of the board of public works, a member of congress, two state senators, one state representative, prosecuting attorney, clerks of courts, sheriff, recorder, auditor, treasurer, three commissioners and a county surveyor.

The judicial ticket embracing supreme, circuit, common pleas and probate judges will be separate and apart from the regular ballot and the names will go on without anything to designate as to which party they belong. This is the working out of the law to eliminate the judiciary from politics, but voters are expected to have good memories as to their party candidates.

YOUNGSTOWN

White slavery cases continue to bob up with annoying frequency despite the vigilance of the police.

Joe Weiss had an immense crowd at the station the other day to give Roosevelt, his favorite candidate for the republican presidential nomination, the glad hand as he passed through the city last week. Should Teddy win Joseph will surely be in position to ask for any place within the gift of the president. He is a Roosevelt boomer early and late.

Gov. Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey was given a great ovation in this city Wednesday. Thousands of democrats and many republicans were out to do him honor. There is no getting away from the fact that the governor is a mighty popular candidate for the democratic nomination for president even in this locality where Gov. Harmon has a strong hold.

The few pleasant days the past week have brought real estate and dealers report many sales. Indications are that the coming summer will be a busy one for builders.

Not many saloons keeping open after hours or on Sunday since proprietors have learned that Mayor Hartenstein meant it when he said liquor violations must cease. It seems strange indeed to see some places closed on time when in the old days the doors never ceased to swing for fellows anxious to separate from their coin.

Pay-as-you-enter street cars are soon to be placed in service in this city.

Henry Siegfried, one of the pioneer carriage makers of this city, is critically ill.

The annexing of Youngstown township to the city may be delayed on account of road improvement planned in the outlying districts. As soon as the township is taken into the city the road commissioners will be out of business. And the annexation means much to Boardman, Austintown and Jackson townships which have been strictly in it in a road way. This city has been paying 90 per cent of the cost of all roads macadamized in those townships as well as in Youngstown township. It is likely there will be delay enough to permit the brick road building planned for some months ago.

Candidates must keep their pig cards off telegraph and telephone poles and do their advertising in some other manner. So declares Mayor Hartenstein.

This city is to have a cleanup day, and the Lord knows it needs it bad enough.

L. J. Lomaaney, vice-president of the Republic Rubber Co., died Tuesday night, aged 42 years.

The Mennonite mission has started a campaign to raise $10,000 for a permanent home for the mission on West Federal street.

L. J. Lomaaney's home at Hillside was blown up by dynamite Wednesday morning and four men are under arrest charged with the crime. Six men, a woman and three children were in the house and all escaped serious injury.

To date, A. M. Henderson has everything all his own way in his ambition to be the republican nominee for prosecuting attorney. And at that, the place is a right good one. It pays well and gives a young attorney an excellent chance to widen his acquaintance.

D. F. Anderson has been endorsed by the Youngstown Republican Club for governor. Now watch the friends of Senator Wirt go after scalps.

At Tuesday morning's session of the Mahoning Presbytery, Rev. Kirkbride of Columbiana was elected Moderator for 1912. Rev. W. C. Press, pastor of the Evergreen Presbyterian church and Rev. McCollough of Kinsman, were chosen as delegates to the General Assembly to be held in May.

Beard-Smith Wedding.

Of interest to a large circle of friends is the marriage of Miss Bertha Hilda Beard and Albert Walker Smith, which was solemnized at high noon Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Beard, in Delson avenue. Miss Hazel Beard, a sister of the bride, was at the piano, and played the "Bridal March" from Lohengrin. Miss Olive Beard, another sister, descended the stairs, and a gown of white marquisette over pink and carrying pink roses. Following her the bride, gowned in white voile, with trimmings of satin and lace, and carrying a bride's bouquet of roses, walked with her father who gave her in marriage. Before an improvised altar of palms, ferns and amallix, in the living room, the bridegroom, seated at the best man, Arch Albright. During the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. W. J. Kratz of St. Luke's Lutheran church, Miss Hazel Beard played Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" and later the "Carnival March," from the Venetian scenes by Pini. An interesting feature was the fact that the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Hattie Smith, appeared in her wedding gown which was of lavender silk and crepe. Mrs. Beard wore lavender messaline.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served by Mrs. Will Stevenson, the immediate families, with the members of the bridal party being seated at the bride's table, while the other guests were seated at smaller tables. Pink and white roses were used in decorating. Later in the afternoon the married couple left for their new home in the Hubbard road.

The bride, who is an unusually attractive and popular young woman, was graduated from Rayen school with the class of '11, and for a short time was connected with the G. M. McKelvey office force. Mr. Smith is the son of Mrs. Hattie and the late James G. Smith of Glenwood avenue, and for some time has been interested in agricultural pursuits. Both young people have a large circle of friends whose regard for them was expressed by many beautiful gifts.

From out of the city the following guests were received: Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Heinzelman, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Beard, Mrs. Emma Beard and Mrs. Calvin Frye of Calla; Miss La Rue Frederick of New Springfield, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Beard of Cleveland; Mrs. M. A. Henderson of Salem, and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Caldwell of Niles. —Youngstown Telegram.

Old Saws in Rhyme.

Actions speak louder than words ever do;

You can't eat your cake and hold on to it, too.

When the cat is away, then the little mice play;

Where there is a will, there is always a way.

One's deep in the mud as the other in mire;

Don't jump from the frying pan into the fire.

There's no use crying o'er milk that is split;

No accuser is needed by conscience of guilt.

There must be some fire wherever is smoke;

The pitcher goes off to the well till it's broke.

By rogues falling out honest men get their due;

Whoever it fits, he must put on the shoe.

All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy;

A thing of much beauty is ever a joy.

A half loaf is better than no bread at all;

And pride always goeth before a sad fall.

SALEM

Fire of unknown origin destroyed a large barn on the old fair grounds last Saturday night. Two horses, two mules, a dog and a cat perished in the flames and a threshing machine, hay baler and other chattels stored in the building burned. Only one horse was gotten out. The loss is several thousand dollars.

Dr. Thompson went to New Garden Monday and removed an eye for the little daughter of H. W. Emmons. The eye had been injured while she was playing with a penknife and in order to save the sight of the other eye it was necessary to remove the injured optic.

An automobile on Saturday ran into a rig owned by Mrs. Robt. Trimble, who resides on the Benton road, and the frightened team ran away, badly damaging the wagon and harness and slightly injuring the horses. It is said the auto was exceeding the speed limit when the collision occurred.

Churches of this city were largely attended last Sunday despite unfavorable weather and the show of Easter finery was glorious to behold.

Several from this city attended the examination for rural mail carriers in Leetonia last Saturday. There were 25 applicants, but it will be a long time before that many rural carrier jobs are available.

Complaints are already coming to Mayor McKay about people permitting their chickens to run at large and annoy neighbors who aspire to make gardens. Troublesome hens, it appears, are to be found in nearly every town, big and little.

The annual convention of the Ohio state grange will be held in this city next December, all question about it having been determined.

Republicans of the district meet here Thursday to decide who shall represent the party as delegates in the national convention.

Thirty-four pupils will graduate from the high school in June. Elbert Vincent, who resides north of the city, carries off first honors, his grades being the highest throughout the year.

Mrs. James Bennett, aged 46, died Tuesday at her home near Damascus. The remains were brought to this city for funeral services Thursday and burial in Hope cemetery.

Public playgrounds for the youth of the city are assured, the old Baptist cemetery on Depot street having been offered for that purpose by the church officials.

David Simpson, who was fined $5 and costs for trespassing on the premises of Agnes Simpson, was not possessed of the necessary coin to set so it became the duty of Mayor McKay to send him to Lisbon where he must languish until his assessment is served.

A burglar got into Bolger & French's drug store the other night and made his getaway without being discovered. He secured $8 in money and razors valued at $25.

The Columbiana county Sunday school convention will be held in Columbiana May 2 and 3.

Lisbon residents are in high glee. The old county jail, which has been condemned by every grand jury since Adam was an urchin, is to be painted.

Many farmers in this locality are nearly out of fed for stock. It is many a year since conditions were so bad in that particular in this section.

Willis Eundry has sold his tungaw to I. H. Cook who will shortly take possession of same. Mr. Bundy will locate in Cleveland.

The K. of C. organization in this city is rapidly increasing its membership. At the meeting Monday night seven applications for membership were received.

Attorney L. P. Metzger of this city, who recently announced himself as a candidate for the republican nomination for congress, says that wherever he goes in the district he is assured of substantial support. When the show down comes he is likely to be the only candidate from Columbiana county and his friends believe he will put the cleaner on the other fellows in jig time. Let us hope.

J. Paul Huxley of Youngstown, who was cranking his automobile Monday when it back-fired and he had his right arm broken. It may be here remarked that Paul is a rapid candidate for probate judge in Mahoning county.

Harvey Filtercraft has gone to Indianapolis to spend several weeks.

Jim McHugh of Leetonia got mixed up with the law Sunday, the charge against him being assault and battery committed on John Dunlap. The mayor at first was disposed to send him to Lisbon for a protracted visit but finally golden ruled him, the provision being that he would get out of the city and stay out.

The K. of P. lodge will have a calico ball Saturday night.

The ladies of Butler grange will do degree work on the night of April 20 and the men have been invited to be on hand and see the work done right.

Sow grass seed now if you would have a fine lawn.

Chester Hartzell has moved to North Benton.

Elks are figuring on building a fine new club house.

 "THE BIG STORE"

Annual Spring Sale of FURNITURE, RUGS, DRAPERIES AND WALL PAPERS This Week

Home holds first place in the heart at all seasons. The question of improving the home or putting it in order is as spring-time itself. The feeling for change keeps time with nature. There is a longing for newest and best, be it furniture, floor or wall coverings.

Moving, re-adjustment, the possession of a new home; there are many reasons why spring-time is necessarily buying time for home furnishings of all kinds.

This week, the McKelvey home furnishing stores invite you to see how carefully they have anticipated your moods and desires. The spring and summer things are here.

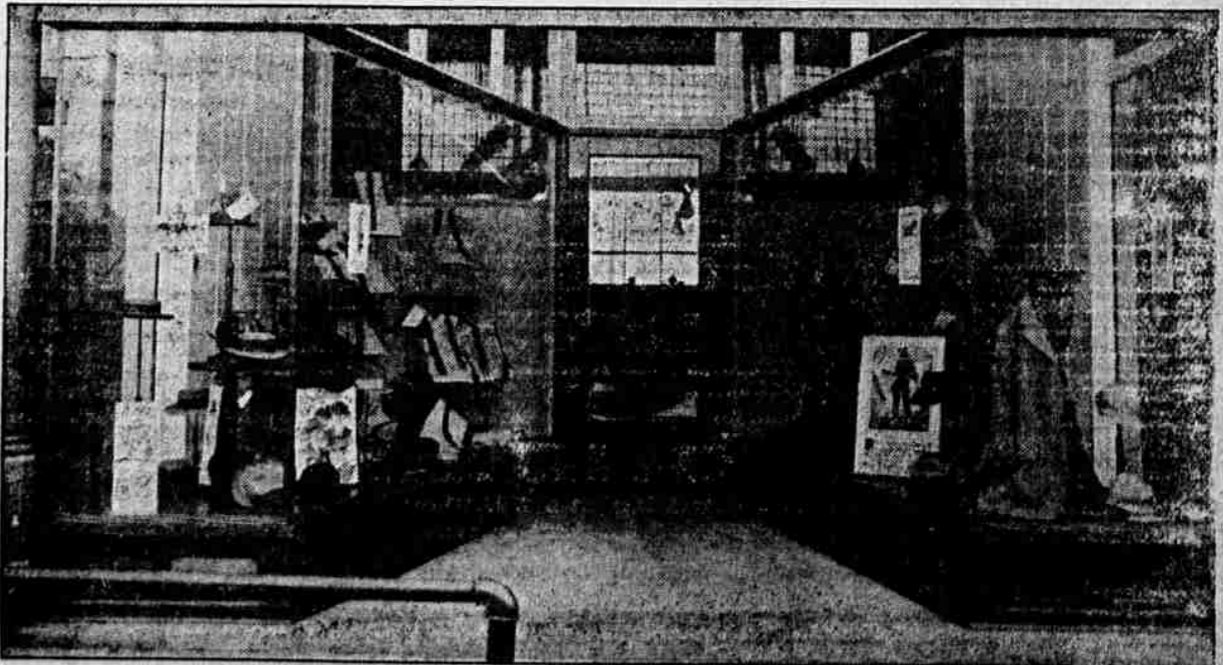

The best furniture for the home or the porch, rugs of finer texture and richer colorings than ever shown before, rugs of grass and other fabrics suitable for the porch, curtains, draperies of bright cherry tones, wall papers copied from period wall decorations of centuries ago.

Each one of the selections sounds its full note of spring and summer. The chord is a wonderful harmony of beauty and helpfulness. The great selections are keyed up as never before to help the people of Youngstown and vicinity to settle the problem of how to meet the spring and summer.
